

ADRIAN DAVILA SAENZ

I am an Orlando-based Director and Editor. I've spent nearly a decade producing, directing, and editing hours of programming.

My career began in Texas working with Univision for over three years as a Technical Director and editor for the number one news station in San Antonio, where I took home one of three Emmy Awards for which I was nominated.

In 2011 I moved to Orlando, where I went on to earn my Bachelor's Degree in Science of Film and was the most awarded student in my class. After I graduated, I began working with Pink Sneakers Productions as a freelance, and then Staff Editor, where I've edited high quality programming for networks such as MTV, CMT, El Rey Network, Oxygen, Tru TV, and more.

Throughout my career, I have also worked projects doing Promos for NCSI, Steve Harvey, and Anderson Cooper, amongst others for 2C Media; I edited political ads for Consensus Communications with a heavy focus on After Effects animations; and created all pre-produced material for the live Alma Awards in 2013 and 2014 for Big Vida Entertainment. In addition, I have worked with Domino Effect Productions on many music videos and regional ads.

I am a hardworking, self motivated, positive guy with goals to exceed expectations.
